

PHOTO POLICY

The Cosmosphere is proud to offer a very liberal photo policy. You're welcome to photograph any of the galleries, with flash, unless something is marked otherwise. We have a small number of artifacts on display from other museums, which do not allow photographs, and we ask you to respect their policies. Photographs can be taken for personal use only, the sale or for-profit distribution of photographic or video images of objects in our collection without written permission is prohibited.

Please refrain from using any cameras during movies or planetarium shows. You are welcome to photograph in the Carey Digital Dome Theater before or after the movie.

We do ask that you limit your use of tripods throughout the museum, so as not to interfere with other people's enjoyment and access.

If you are a member of the media – traditional or new – please contact info@cosmo.org or 620-662-2305 for any special arrangements you need. We're happy to accommodate everyone from bloggers to international film crews. Just let us know how we can help you.
